

Scott Garvey

Class of 1980

Football - 4 Varsity Letters

Position: Linebacker

Honors: Captain 1979

Team MVP 1979

Highlights: As his coach, Dave Piasecki remembers "It was important that he lead in tackles made from his linebacker position each week. He intercepted passes, caused and recovered fumbles - he had a nose for the ball. At 5' 7", 175 lbs., he was very quick and a hard hitter. On offense, he took pride in throwing the key block to spring the running back for a score or long gain - winning the game was more important than individual stats. Scott was an excellent student and citizen in school and as an athlete, he was always a motivated and enthusiastic leader. He was always aware of his assignments and responsibilities on the field and in the classroom. He was an exceptional leader, respected by his peers."

New Bedford Standard Times All-Star 1980

Highlights: In his four seasons, Scott, who played on two League Championship teams (1979 and 1980) made big contributions from both behind and at the plate. As a sophomore, he batted .318 with 10 RBIs, junior year a .300 with 8 RBIs and senior year a strong .417 batting average with 19 RBIs for the Mayflower champion Lakers. Coach Karl Tinsley recalls that "in baseball, the same qualities surfaced as a catcher on two championship teams. He excelled defensively as well as at bat, ran the bases very well, and from his catching position, was like a coach on the field."

Scott enjoys golf, scuba diving, coaching youth football/baseball and hanging out with his family, his wife Susan (who he married in Atlanta in 1993) and his two sons William (19 attending Texas Tech) and Matthew (16 attending Vandegrift High School).
